SINCLAIR REFUSES TO OBEY COMMAND OF THE COMMITTEE

Washington, March 22.—Harry F. Sinclair, multi-millionaire oil magnate, who leased Teapot Dome from Albert B. Fall, defied the Senate Public Committee today.

He refused to testify. At the outset of the session, Senator Walsh, Dem. of Montana, made a lengthy argument disputing the claim of Sinclair's lawyers that the committee had exhausted its legal powers in the oil investigation.

Walsh laid a batch of law books and documents on the committee table from which he cited numerous precedents supporting his contention that the committee had full jurisdiction to force Sinclair to take the stand and answer questions.

Sinclair and counsel, the oil magnate, took the stand at 11 o'clock after a morning of wrangling between his lawyers and the committee. He had called an interested spectator while lawyers argued and had grinned widely when the committee voted unanimously that they had the right to compel him to testify.

He was all prepared when the vote was taken, and as he took the stand he extracted from his pocket a prepared statement which declared that he would not testify because the committee was without authority to compel him to probe into his affairs.

Sinclair said he did not desire to answer questions for fear his testimony might incriminate him. He said there is nothing in any of the facts or circumstances of the lease of Teapot Dome which does or can incriminate him.

"Any pertinent question which the committee might ask," he continued, "I will answer it as honestly and as fully as I can. You and the body from which you derive your authority have no jurisdiction over the question of Teapot Dome. I am not a party to it."

He then asked the committee to adjourn. He said he had no further to say. He then asked the committee to adjourn. He said he had no further to say. He then asked the committee to adjourn. He said he had no further to say.

W. Caldwell, wife of Jersey City and Mr. J. E. R. Murray of Kansas, N. J., have returned to their home after spending the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Snyder of West Front street.

PENNSY-GRAMS

Harrisburg—Glad Finchel in a proclamation today designated Friday, April 11, and Friday, April 25, as Arbor and Bird days.

Harrisburg, March 22 (INS).—State Police and the authorities of every city and township in the Central counties are combing the district today for traces of Miss Ruth Hony, pretty 22-year old proprietress of a Lancaster tea room, who vanished after completing a day of hopping here with an aunt Thursday.

Relatives are at a loss to explain the action of the young woman.

Harrisburg—Everyone who owns a quarter in Pittsburgh this morning is wondering whether it is genuine, because in the last few days hundreds of counterfeit twenty-five cent pieces believed to be made here, have been put in circulation throughout the city.

Pittsburgh—George Thompson, 19, one of the alleged "blue hand" gangsters is awaiting his sentence today after being found guilty of voluntary manslaughter late yesterday in connection with the killing of Philip Flynn, a bartender.

Pittsburgh—Julia Marlowe, famous Shubert actress, who has been suffering with a slight sprain the last two days, will be able to appear in the two performances of her engagement here today, according to her co-workers. F. H. Southern, who injured herself when she made a mis-step while playing "The Merchant of Venice" Thursday.

Pittsburgh—Conscience stricken unknown grocer sent J. H. Haugh, caretaker of the Tarentum Borough jail $2.50, the price Haugh paid for a ham 20 years ago. In the note accompanying the check the man said he had cheated Haugh by selling him old ham instead of a fresh one.

May Be Released

Harry K. Thaw (left) photographed on his return to Philadelphia after spending a two-week vacation in Pittsburgh with his mother. While there he prepared to go to trial to prove his sanity. He will try to earn his release from the Penn Hospital for Mental Diseases.

Hayward Not Impressed With Testimony Offered By Confessed Bootlegger

New York, March 21 (INS).—Each in the honor and integrity of David L'Esperance, a special Federal Assistant Attorney General, on duty in his office, despite the sensational charge in Washington of John Gorman that L'Esperance accepted bribes in liquor withdrawals was made this afternoon by United States District Attorney William Hayward.

It would take more than the testimony of a confessed bootlegger to shake my confidence in Major L'Esperance," Hayward said.

CLARION MAN DIES WHILE DRIVING HIS CAR AT BROOKVILLE

Brookville, March 21.—While leaving Brookville hospital after visiting a patient, Frances Nave, Myer, of Clarion, died at the wheel of his car as it was making the turn onto the pavement on the back road.

Mr. Myer had brought a neighbor, Mrs. Zueharel, to the hospital to visit her husband. She was accompanied by her 13 year old son, while Mr. Myer's brother-in-law, C. B. Fraughton, of Oklahoma, was a passenger in the front seat.

As the car reached the turn onto the pavement, Mr. Farquharson noted that the car was not turning and requested his companion to turn the wheel to keep from going off the road. He received no response, and noted that Mr. Myer was acting in a strange manner. He grasped the wheel and turned the car onto the road, and the stiffening of Mr. Myer's body caused pressure on the foot accelerator, causing the car to lunge forward.

Mr. Farquharson had considerable trouble getting the dead man's foot off the accelerator, out of the way, so he could reach the brakes, with a result that the car was not brought to a stop until it was in front of the J. J. McGuffin home.

Mr. Myer was lifted from the car and taken into the McGuffin home. Dr. McNeil was summoned and pronounced the man dead. In the meantime Rev. J. F. Wagner had been called, but did not reach the scene in time to render assistance, as the man had evidently died before making the turn onto the end of the brick road.

MRS. CARL PATCHIN DIES

Mrs. Carl Patchin, of Burnside, well known in Clearfield, who had been spending the winter in Florida on account of ill health, died there last evening.

SCHOOL TEACHER BADLY BITTEN BY DOG NEAR DUBOIS

Dubois, Pa., March 21.—It is a well known fact that all dogs must be kept tied up, but it is a better known fact that few dog owners comply with the law that deals with keeping the pets from running wild. An incident which recently occurred, stresses the importance of keeping the dogs from running around, while the dog did not belong to a DuBois person, a DuBois girl was the victim.

Miss Helen Anthony, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Anthony, who has been teaching school at Crossroads, near Stanley, was recently returning from school, when a large dog, owned by a Mr. Kriner, bounded out of the barn, located near the roadway, and attacked the young lady, biting her on the left leg, between the ankle and knee. The wound was a painful one, but the injury was thought by the young lady to be a dog bite, nothing more. She walked to Stanley, where she secured medical attention, and came to her home, in this city. She informed her father of the incident and explained the actions of the dog. Dr. Anthony became worried over the way the dog had acted and went to the Kriner farm. He informed the owner of his purpose, and

Following this examination in the presence of Probation Officer Torrence, W. J. Leavy, guardian of one of the boys, Stewart Bauman and several others, a Progress representative was given opportunity to question the boys alone and they both agreed that Stewart Bauman "was not a bad 'old fellow' and treated them alright, except that he locked them up when they ran away a couple of weeks before."

DON'T RUN TO A FIRE WHEN ALARM SOUNDS MONDAY

Unless It Blows at Some Other Hour Than Two o'clock; Then the Big Legion Drive Begins.

READY—AIM—FIRE

The biggest membership drive in the history of John Shade Post of the American Legion is scheduled to start promptly at 2 o'clock Monday, March 24th. The town has been districted, captains appointed and members detailed to make up sufficient teams of solicitors to thoroughly and expeditiously cover the town and adjacent territory. Every eligible has been designated and before the day is over, Commander Chase and his fellow members expect to have the membership total well over last year's figures and the goal set for this year attained.

At 2 o'clock Mooley and the different factory whistles will announce the start of the drive and the firemen are hereby notified not to turn out, except that those firemen eligible to membership in the Legion, and who are not now members, will kindly have their dues ready to hand to the first solicitor who reaches them.

Buddy, if you haven't already joined, get ready to do so Monday because the boys sure will be after you. Besides, membership in the Legion means too much to the ex-service man and his family to warrant you in remaining outside the breastworks.

That thermometer in Shapiro's window shows the 400-mark was reached at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. A long pull, a strong pull and a pull all together on Monday will put the campaign "over the top" to the highest figure in the post's history. Every man is expected to do his duty.

Returned Home 'Cured', Woman Shoots Children And Attempts to Kill Self

Philadelphia, March 22 (INS).—Mrs. Mary Schultz, 28, of Torresdale near here, is in the Frankford Hospital today with a self-inflicted gash in the head and with return to an insane asylum hanging over her if she recovers as doctors expect her to.

Her husband returned to their reverses at the time of the McKersport oil bubble and if this estate is worth much, and it must be or so much energy would not be used up in hunting the beneficiary, it will come in mighty handy to Mr. Gemmell. Good luck to him.

BOYS TELL STORY OF THEIR WHIPPING TO JUDGE CHASE

Tell Progress Reporter
Bauman Is a "Pretty Good Old Fellow" As He Didn't Hurt Them.

LADS NEED A HOME

Judge Chase's inquiry into the charge made against Stewart Thomas Bauman of the County Home that he had unmercifully beaten two boys who had run away from the home, and were found at the Sewer Pipe Works, elicited the information, from the boys themselves, that the account given by eye-witnesses to the alleged flogging was largely overdrawn.

The boys were brought before Judge Chase in chambers at 1:45 yesterday afternoon and in answer to the Judge's questions both boys declared that while the Stewart had "paddled" them, as they stated it, he did not hurt them any and they regarded his correctional measures as somewhat in the nature of a joke as far as personal injury was concerned.

The accident occurred about 10:35 o'clock yesterday morning and the badly injured man was taken at once to the Clearfield Hospital, where he was given every attention, but it is feared his injuries are fatal, as his condition has been so precarious but little could be attempted by his physicians in their efforts to relieve him.

The boys are bright, sunny lads of 13 and 14 years, as full of the devil as the average boy minus parental restraint and forced to accept the conditions they have been up against during their short lives.

We are satisfied that Stewart Bauman did not go too far in his correction, and we are further satisfied the County Home is no place in which to try to raise two young lads such as these and that some place should be found for them where they could be given the care and training they need to make them useful citizens when they arrive at maturity.

SCALE COMMITTEE AT ALTOONA IS FOR THREE YEAR PACT

Altoona, March 22.—A three year continuation of the present wage agreement with the operators of the district was late yesterday afternoon recommended to the United Mine Workers of District No. 2 in convention here, by their scale committee. It is expected that the vote on the recommendation today will be for acceptance.

The scale committee's report, which is based on the agreement reached at Jacksonville, Florida, by the miners and operators of the Central Competitive Field reads:

"We, your scale committee, recommend to the convention in lieu of all resolutions relating to wages and working conditions, that have been presented, that the scale committee of District No. 2 be authorized and instructed to secure the best agreement obtainable, as to wages and working rules on the basis of no wage reduction for a period of three years."

"The scale committee is authorized to take action for the protection of our best interests as circumstances may require and to advise the membership on an unexpected development that may arise and which cannot be foreseen."

No opposition to the recommendation was registered following its reading.

farmhouse last night to find she had shot and killed their two children, Mary 5, and Edward, 1 and then hacked her own head with a hatchet in attempts at suicide.

The children were seated side by side on a couch when slain.

When revived from unconsciousness Mrs. Schultz explained she had been goaded on by "an evil spirit with red horns," that hovered about the house all day and threatened to take her life. The woman twice had been adjudged insane but she was believed to have been cured.

Fall From Scaffold It Is Feared Will Result Fatally For Bill Bock

William E. Bock, of Witmer street, is a patient at the Clearfield Hospital perhaps fatally injured as the result of a fall at the plant of the American Nickel Corporation at Hyde City.

Mr. Bock was engaged with a couple of other men as a pipe fitter at the Nickel plant. They were working on a swinging scaffold about fifteen or twenty feet above the floor. All three left the scaffold to get some fittings and Mr. Bock returned before the other two. While he was working there alone the timber or plank they were using to sit on broke under Mr. Bock's weight and he fell to the concrete floor, alighting among a pile of fittings and other supplies.

He was thrown head first, the back of his head striking a furnace door lying on the floor. His skull was crushed at the base for a considerable area, while X-ray pictures showed that two of the vertebrae in his back bone were fractured.

The accident occurred about 10:35 o'clock yesterday morning and the badly injured man was taken at once to the Clearfield Hospital, where he was given every attention, but it is feared his injuries are fatal, as his condition has been so precarious but little could be attempted by his physicians in their efforts to relieve him.

Salv'n Army Wants Old Clothing and Furniture For Rummage Sale

Have you any clothing or furniture that you can spare for a good purpose? The Salvation Army intends to hold its annual rummage sale during the first part of the week. These sales serve a double purpose. Not only do they bring funds into the treasury of the Salvation Army to help them carry on the magnificent work they are doing but these sales put within reach of a lot of people the necessities in clothing and furniture which they are unable to buy elsewhere.

If you have any clothing of any nature which you would like to donate to a good purpose, or any furniture that you have no use for and wish that it might fall into the hands of some needy person, call Captain Watson on the Bell phone at once and he will make arrangements to call for it. Of course, if you can send it to Salvation Army headquarters in The Progress building it will help all the more but Captain Watson is very willing to call for it.

Act quickly. Call the Captain now. He will be within reach at his home at most any hour except the hour of service, which is 7:30.

No New Developments In Outbreak Of Smallpox; Vaccinations On Today

There has been no new developments in the smallpox situation over night. Mrs. Steele, victim of the disease, is getting along fine and is well along on the way to recovery.

The Board of Health has decreed that all the Junior and Senior High School pupils shall be vaccinated before they will be allowed to enter these schools and as there is nothing for the School Board to do but obey this decree the work of vaccinating

SCHOOL OPEN MONDAY AS USUAL

Clearfield borough schools, including High and Junior High will open Monday morning as usual. The Board of Health requires that all pupils must have been successfully vaccinated within the past five years. No others will be admitted to school at this time.

The nearly one thousand boys and girls affected was begun officially at 9 o'clock this morning at both school buildings.

Drs. Wilson, Piper and Quigley went to it when the zero hour approached with lines made up of at least half the total number to be vaccinated in sight.

The school nurse and volunteer assistants were hard at work getting the victims ready for the vaccine and prospective sore arms were being turned out at the rate of six or eight per minute.

The Board of Health rule requires that all pupils shall be vaccinated now who have not been successfully vaccinated within the past five years. They will not allow any pupil to enter either school until this has been done, wherefore, as School opens as usual Monday morning all pupils who expect to resume their studies at this time, must see to it that they have been vaccinated. This vaccination costs the pupil nothing.

hoping to score a real "heat" on old "John Disease" along comes some unexpected for happening which knocks his finest hopes into a "cocked hat." Take this week for illustration. Secretary Gaulin, up to Thursday evening, had been congratulating himself on the fact that not a single case of communicable disease had been reported to the board all week and began to have visions of an entire week with a clean bill of health, when along came report of that poky case of small pox in the Second Ward.

That proved to be the only case of contagion for the week, but of course that one is enough. During the same period the quarantine was lifted in seven cases, which leaves a total of 21 cases of communicable disease under quarantine in the town. They are located as follows:

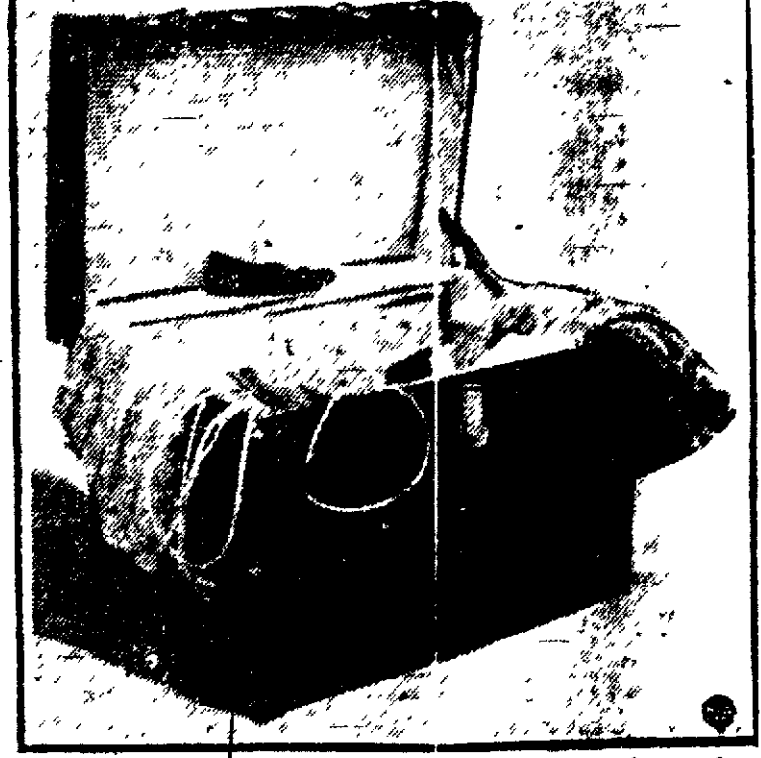

First Ward: None.
Second Ward: Small pox 1, whooping cough 10.
Third Ward: Whooping cough 7, scarlet fever 2.
Fourth Ward: Whooping cough 1.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. D. C.

The evil men do often pursue and confronts them when they least expect it. That was the recent experience of Mayor Kittelberger. A few days ago a woman slipped on the sidewalk about the corner of Market and Third streets and was pretty badly shaken up by her fall to the pavement. A female companion, who had nothing but her feelings hurt by the fall, got to a telephone and calling Mayor Kittelberger demanded that he send the borough doctor at once to minister to her friend's injuries. The mayor replied that the borough did not possess a doctor, therefore he was unable to comply with the request. Then followed a heated one-sided discussion, with the mayor on the listening end, and which gave the talker's opinion of a mayor who would fine a poor devil $1.00 for carrying the sidewalk with peanuts when he wouldn't do one thing toward taking the ice off the walks or minister to the injured when they fall as a result of walking in the slippery places on the main streets. The mayor attempted to counter by telling the lady he was willing to put a fine of $1.00 on the fellow responsible for the fall, but the lady refused to listen.

Two per cent of the farmers in a recent survey feel that financial difficulties are due to prices of farm products. Seventy per cent believe their condition is due to eleven per cent to taxes for farm labor; ten per cent to high freight rates; ten per cent to high interest rates; six per cent to crop and market conditions; and four per cent to other causes.

In the Courts

John Burns, who was gathered in at DuBois early in February by State Troopers Barker and Pierce for making and possessing moonshine, after spending 30 days in jail decided it was too long to wait for May term of Court and accordingly entered a plea of guilty yesterday. Judge Chase said that in as much as there had been no evidence of sale and as he had already served 30 days in jail, he was disposed to take these facts into consideration when imposing sentence. He thereupon directed that Burns pay $200 fine and costs and spend 10 more days in jail. At the end of that period Burns will be paroled in the custody of Probation Officer to pay ten fine and costs at the rate of $25 per month, beginning April 10th. Failure to make any monthly report will be considered a violation of parole and the defendant in that case will be brought back to jail.

Andrew G. Johnson, of Glen Richey, who had his leg broken several weeks ago was removed to the Clearfield Hospital on Wednesday from the home of his father-in-law James A. McLaughlin of Park street.

Dr. Lever Stewart reduced the fracture on Thursday morning. Mr. Johnson is getting along as well as can be expected.

Must Have Security

Lloyd's, the headquarters of the world's shipping insurance, maintains an agent at every port in the world, who transmits news of all ships that pass. All candidates for membership at Lloyd's have to deposit such security for their liabilities as may be required. This security at the present time amounts to more than $20,000,000.

Sea Water Affects Glass

Glass is considerably affected by exposure to sea water. The lenses of signal lights on ships become covered by a thin layer of sea salt which eventually etches into the glass. The United States bureau of standards in an investigation of this subject has found that lead glass was quite susceptible to this corrosive action while ordinary soda-lime glass and borosilicate glass are little affected.

Navel oranges, of which California sends out $100,000 boxes a year, were introduced into the United States from Brazil by the Department of Agriculture in 1870. ## CORRUPTION

"Not since the Constitution of the United States was written and Washington took his oath of office," says a representative of the Federal Council of Churches, "has our country been so shocked as now. The man is a fool who can laugh at the scandal. Give it the mildest interpretation you can, and it is horrible. Men in high office have broken the trust placed in them."

Much of this is obviously true. But is it all true? Are we witnessing today the greatest welter of corruption in our public life that the nation has ever seen? Is the scandal recently uncovered at Washington really unprecedented?

Half a century ago James Russell Lowell, in a similar mood, wrote of how he had looked over a newspaper

And read of public scandal, private fraud;
Some flaunting scot-free while the mob applaud,
Office made vile to bribe unworthiness,
And all the unwholesome mess
The land of Honest Abraham serves of late—
To teach the Old World how to wait!
Conditions must have been at least as bad in Lowell's day, if they qualified such bitter words.

The chances are that both men exaggerated. Moral critics have a bias of seeing the evil of the hour, in all its ugliness and enormity, without seeing clearly that the majority of their fellow-men are honest, and that forces are actually at work counteracting the evil.

Not once or twice, but many times, even in this favored and happy hour, there have been big public scandals, revelations that worthy men had prostituted their high offices and betrayed their country. But always such action has been exceptional, accidental, transitory.

Seldom indeed has a public "mob" seen fit to "applaud" exposed evil. The very violence of passion aroused in connection with the present Washington revelations shows a righteous indignation at work to stamp out the plague. Don't call it "hysteria." It is a healing force. When people do not get excited at wrongdoing, then it will be time to despair.

HEROISM

There was a big surprise when Edward C. Maples of Sheffield, England, was found dead in his little room in a Y. M. C. A. building in New York. Maples had been there for many weeks and had talked much of what "his buddies" did in the war. Always he glowed with enthusiasm for the courage of his comrades. He never spoke of himself, and was set down as an unimportant hero-worshiper.

He died, after he had fallen asleep forever on his cot, that the self-effacing soldier had shrapnel marks all over his body and the evidence in his face of poison gas from which he had never recovered; also that he had four medals he never wore. They were the Victoria Cross, which is England's highest honor for war heroes, the Distinguished Service Order, also British and the French Military Medal and the Cross of the Legion of Honor.

To tell the truth, that was a rather English thing to do. Our British cousins, whatever their faults, are seldom given to boasting about their own exploits. They are more likely to err through under-statement.

The same thing is true of Americans who are worth while. A genuine American hero doesn't brag. That is why it is so easy to spot the imitation hero.

WHAT IS SUCCESS?

By ROGER W. BABSON

IV.—THE BIGGEST THING IN THE WORLD

(Copyright 1923, Fleming H. Revell Company. First published in this newspaper by arrangement with Babson Institute, Babson Park, Mass.)

What is the biggest thing in the world? Some one may suggest "The World War." Another may suggest the "United States Steel Corporation," another the "Republican Party," and still another, some power that has shaped the destinies of the world. But my own answer to this question is different, as I believe that the biggest thing in the world is the law of action and reaction, namely, for every action there is an equal and opposite reaction. Of course the World War was of tremendous consequence. But it is a thing of the past. The law of Action and Reaction is a thing of the present, the present and the future. It is with us always, like the law of gravitation.

The United States Steel Corporation is a big thing, and its activities sway the entire globe. But the Law of Action and Reaction lays hold upon every other corporation, and tosses them up and down. Our great political parties are big things. But in the grip of the Law of Action and Reaction, they are swept into office and out of office like this old world amid a cyclone. To attain success the same fundamental principles must be used whether handling postage stamps or millions.

Therefore, in this discussion of what is success, the Law of Action and Reaction must be considered. It is the biggest thing in the world, because it controls even the emotions of the human heart and is the basis of true religion itself.

Pictures of Progress
A chart of business conditions looks like a cross-section of the Rocky Mountain States with their peaks and valleys. The peaks above the normal line are business booms, periods when there is reckless expansion, hysterical activity, and unsound inflation. The valleys below the normal line are business depressions, periods when there is ruthless retrenchment, panic, unemployment, and general hard times. Every time there is an abnormal boom, there is sure to follow an abnormal depression. This is a fundamental law. A big period above the normal line is inevitably followed by a big period below the line.

Some readers remember personally the great prosperity of 1906, for instance, which was followed by the panic of 1907. There was another period of activity prior to the war which was followed by the dullness of 1914. Next came the war boom which was followed by the reaction of 1920.

In your mind's eye, picture this chart reaching back into the days of the American Civil War, then backward, still backward into the days of the Revolutionary War. Crossing to the Old World as the scene of activities, carry the chart still further back to the Biblical days, when the seven fat years followed the seven lean years.

Trees that record centuries
There was a scientist who stretched himself on the stumps of the giant trees in California, trees hundreds of years old, and with a microscope actually measured the relative amount these trees had increased in diameter each decade. In this way he was able to prove that even in remotest antiquity, every period of excessive fertility has been followed by a period of famine, and every period of famine has been followed by a period of fertility. Therefore, do not get the idea that the Law of Action and Reaction is some novelty or a passing phase of modern business some new-fangled contrivance that my making a success here. I am has just been heard of. On the contrary, it is the most enduring fact of human history.

This fundamental law is the biggest thing in the world because it shapes the life of every man, woman and child. Whether or not a man is successful depends largely upon his understanding of this law. You may remember reading in the papers not long ago that a great captain of industry had been forced out of the automobile's corporation of which he was the head. Another was obliged to relinquish control of the gigantic tire corporation which he had built up. A few months later you read that another colossal figure in the world of commerce had sold his private stables and thrown his estate on the market in the desperate attempt to meet a loss of $5,000,000. These men were giants, but they attempted to ignore this fundamental law. They could no more keep their feet than if they had tried to stand on the brink of Niagara Falls.

Those who would stem the tide
If these men—these supermen of the business world—as they bowed before the storm, had chanced to meet some humble laborer who had lost his job, they might well have clasped his hand and said, "My brother!" because this fundamental law knows no rank of rating. It deals with us all alike—rich or poor, Westerners, Easterners, Northerners, Southerners, butchers, bakers, and candlestick makers.

Here is a simple illustration of what the Law of Action and Reaction means to every reader. The following letter was written by a young man in New York City to his folks in Maine. It was dated January, 1908, during the business depression. "Dear Mother: I haven't entirely lost heart—I won't ever do that—but that night to write home! I can't help thinking what a lot of real suffering in this world would be saved if people only understood the cause of it, if they only realized it was merely a swing in business conditions and would soon be over."

The Temptation of High Wages
The man who wrote this letter has today a wife and family and a good business. Today he is looked upon as successful. But he said as he exhorted his letter which his mother had saved, "It makes me smile a little now, but I hope never to come nearer death than when I sat down that night to write home! I can't help thinking what a lot of real suffering in this world would be saved if people only understood the cause of it, if they only realized it was merely a swing in business conditions and would soon be over."

Progress Editorials for Women
MUCH IN LITTLE
By Florence Davies
It seems an odd thing that the world makes such hard work of discovering truth.

The great artist James MacNeill Whistler was known in his day as a great fighter, always bombarding the newspapers with letters, even going to law with Ruskin over an unfair criticism. If we have forgotten many of the things that Whistler fought for, it is only because many of the things he tried to tell us we now take for granted. It was less than fifty years ago, for instance, that Whistler fought to make his public believe that a great etching may be made upon a small plate. We know that now. But in those days the art critics were inclined to think that a little plate could be of

Here is another letter that may interest readers who like letters because they are real human documents and not the expression of dry theories. This letter was written by a young lady:—

October 18, 1919.
"My dear Mr. Babson—Please don't think I have not enjoyed my work with the Babson Statistical Organization. It has been most congenial, and I hope I have been useful. I have certainly tried to be. My only reason for now sending you this letter resigning my position is because I have been offered a place in the Company, and they offer a very much larger salary than I am getting here. Personally even the higher pay would not influence me to make the change, but with others partly dependent upon my earnings I really feel this is a serious consideration."

"I shall always be greatly interested in your work and that of the Organization, in which I leave many friends. I thank you for all that you have done for me."

"Sincerely yours,"

Note that this letter is dated October, 1919. What was happening in October, 1919? Business was booming. Everybody was employed. Everybody was getting big wages and salaries. It was hard to get help. Business organizations were scouting around trying to get each other's employees, just as a certain company attracted this girl away from the Babson offices. She was a valuable girl, and we should have liked to raise her pay and meet this other offer if we could have done so in fairness to the rest of the Organization. As that was impossible, the only thing to do was to accept her resignation, at the same time strongly advising her against leaving. The advice, however, was not accepted.

Depression
What happened? For a month or so, everything went merrily as a marriage bell. Then, about the middle of 1920, the storm broke. Business began to slide downhill. Business organizations retrenched. Employees were discharged right and left. The particular company which had lured away the girl by the bait of a fancy salary turned right around and discharged her. She felt that she had failed. She was completely discouraged.

Instead of urging her to take the other job, as they did, her parents should have explained to her this fundamental law. Any parents who permit their children to quit a secure job just on the brink of a business depression, not only deserve to lose such financial help as the children may be contributing, but they deserve to lose also their children's confidence and respect. Ambitions for our boys and girls are justified, of course, we want them to succeed. But don't let love blind our eyes to a fundamental law of success.

The Law That Makes or Breaks Us
Let not our ambition for success be a blind ambition. In time of depression teach confidence and hope, courage and enterprise. But in time of great prosperity teach steadiness, prudence, caution, vigilance, and service.

Some of the world's best and greatest men have frankly said that much of their success they owe to lessons learned at their mother's knee. Oh, if all those lessons and counsels might include instruction about the fundamental law of Action and Reaction! What a priceless legacy and inheritance it is for a boy and girl to go into the world with a clear understanding of how the world works, how fundamental law operates, how it makes us or breaks us according to the way we choose to profit by its power or vainly try to stem its overwhelming tides. As Shakespeare said: "There is a tide in the affairs of men, which taken at the flood leads on to fortune." The time to catch this tide is at the bottom of the long swing upward.

We may not sail the seas or meet the mighty. Those in big places do not know our names, and our works are seldom heralded from coast to coast or continent to continent as are the works of the world's great.

One can't paint a very big picture on fifty dollars a week, or in five rooms and a bath, with half the basement."

But one can paint a great picture, done area if not a big one. It is done the way Whistler did it, by leaving out the clutter, making every line count for beauty and meaning. For lives, like etchings can be truly great, even though the area on which they are lived be small.

Engineer Theodore Peterson of the New York Central lines, reports all kinds of game plenty in the Curry Run to Burnside country and on Wednesday night had a race with three fine deer along the straight line above Patchinville.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY TO ASK FOR RATE RAISE

The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania will, on Tuesday, April 1, file with the Public Service Commission at Harrisburg, a new schedule of telephone rates that in many instances will be an increase over the now in effect.

What the specific changes will be cannot be ascertained until they are presented to the Commission. The new schedule is to take effect May 1, the last day of the fiscal year. The rate is given of any change.

For the last several months the Company has not been earning the dividend on its common stock, and there is no prospect that it will be able to correct this situation in the future unless its revenues are increased.

The present rates have been in effect since 1920. At that time there were 120,000 telephones in the state, representing an average investment of about $10 each. In the succeeding four years the number of telephones in the state has grown to 262,000, last year's net growth being 75,000.

Each year the Bell Telephone Company has a plant investment of $7,000,000, bringing the average investment per telephone in service up to $177 or about 40 per cent more than four years ago.

By 1924 it is estimated, the average investment per telephone will be $225. The Bell Telephone Company is expected to meet this increase by raising rates. It is expected that the average investment per telephone will be $225 by 1924.

economies in methods of construction and operation. Labor saving devices are used wherever possible, and accounting methods and other routines have been simplified wherever this could be done. Improvements in the art developed by the large staff of engineers in the laboratories of the American Telephone & Telegraph Company have been applied to keep costs down; but all these have failed to bridge the gap between present revenues and present money requirements.

In its schedule which will be filed next week The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania sets up rates that will do no more than enable it to pay all its bills, including adequate wages, to meet its interest and dividend requirements; and to have sufficient margin left for surplus which will provide the financial stability and soundness necessary to attract new capital.

What Milk Supplies to the Bodies of Babies and Adults

First—Building and repair material for bone, muscle, nerve and other tissues.

Second—Fuel or energy so that the body machinery can do its work.

Third—Materials for regulating the body processes. These materials keep the organs of the body running smoothly by regulating the processes of respiration, digestion, absorption of food, ridding the body of waste products and by assisting in the proper functioning of all parts of the body.

Fourth—The substances that tend to build up disease resisting powers of the body in the adult and that favor normal growth in children. These may be spoken of as protective substances.

The problem of supplying energy presents no great difficulty since the food materials providing the starches, sugars and fats are abundant and, as a class, are less expensive than protein foods which supply building and repair materials.

The difficult problem in nutrition is to provide the foods that will furnish the right kind and amount of protein and mineral matter for building and repair and that will furnish a sufficient amount of the protective substances.

Our Continuous Obligation

Last year we put in 158,000 new telephones in Pennsylvania. This year we will put in 168,000. During the five years beginning January 1, 1924, the total will be 925,000.

These are gross figures. Our net gain will be about half that number.

Here is an interesting fact: During the coming five years we will actually put in a hundred thousand more new telephones in Pennsylvania than there are in service in the State today.

Every telephone line requires a pair of wires all the way to the central office. That's why we're adding more than half a million miles of new wire each year to our plant in this State.

Every telephone line means central office equipment and building space. That's why we are adding a million and a quarter dollars' worth of telephone apparatus every month inside our buildings.

And that, too, is why it is necessary to enlarge our buildings and to build so many new ones.

All this in a tremendous hurry—why?

Because it's our job to meet the demands for service—not at our convenience, but at the time when the telephones are asked for.

And, too, every added telephone gives your telephone more power.

A GREAT BOOK QUARTET

As a preacher I delight in books. When I read a book that specially delights me, I desire others to know about the book so they may have the delights for themselves. I secured four books recently that have delighted me. And I am taking it on myself to recommend them to those interested in Bible study and in that great experience called religion. By religion I mean the great true relationship between people that is really the outgrowth of our living faith in God.

The first and most important of the four is a Translation of the New Testament called "The New Testament: An American Translation." The work is done by Dr. Edgar J. Goodspeed of The University of Chicago. A most fascinating putting of the message of the New Testament and a good book to use in comparison with the other copy of the New Testament one may have. Any book seller can secure this for those desiring it though it is published by the University of Chicago Press, Chicago.

The price vary. Dr. Goodspeed has written another book which I am now reading and wishing those interested in the New Testament would add it to their working library. It is called, "The Story of The New Testament." It is short, suggestive and tells the story of the writing of each book in the New Testament. One could read it through in a short time.

of the seam of coal now opened and hereafter operated by Hoover Brothers so far as the Lessee thereof may have any rights therein and subject also to the right of way of John Porter, if any, over and across the said premises or a portion thereof for a road leading up to his coal mine. Having thereon erected the homestead dwelling house of the said Annie B. Clark and other outbuildings.

TERMS OF SALE: One-tenth of the amount bid for said premises shall be paid by the purchaser on the date of sale, one-half of the balance of said purchase money shall be paid on confirmation of sale and the remaining one-half of said purchase money, together with lawful interest thereon, shall be paid in one year from the date of sale and shall be secured by a bond and mortgage upon the premises.

WOODLAND

Mr. and Mrs. N. G. Stewart and daughters Thelma and Betty spent Sunday with relatives in Tyrone. Burton Shively, who has been attending college, spent the week-end with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. D. Shively.

Burton Peters, unfortunately had one of his fingers badly crushed while at work in the clay mines on Wednesday.

We understand that plans for the new grade school for Woodland are being drawn up and we hope ground will soon be broken for the same. There is hope.

Kyle's new garage is rapidly being pushed to completion and looks quite pretentious.

Mrs. Richard Pike was a Clearfield visitor on Friday.

William Graham is a surgical patient in the Clearfield hospital, suffering from appendicitis.

Christian Endeavor Rally. A Christian Endeavor rally was held at the Pleasant Valley Church Sunday afternoon, March 16th. There were about 90 present from Woodland. Special selections were rendered by the Woodland U. B. choir and orchestra. A very interesting address was given by Rev. Albans of Clearfield. The next rally will be held in the Woodland U. B. Church, April 6, to which everybody is invited.

 The girl who expects her friends to be perfect has many a disappointment in store. Human nature is full of surprises, but perfection would be the greatest surprise of all. Do not be astonished when you discover some little flaw in your friend's character. For unless love has blinded her, it is very certain that she has discovered a similar flaw in yourself.

Lesson for March 23

THE REIGN OF SOLOMON

LESSON TEXT—II Chron. 1:7-12; I Kings 11:4-11.
GOLDEN TEXT—The fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge.—Prov. 1:7.

PRIMARY TOPIC—A Young King's Dream.
JUNIOR TOPIC—Solomon's Choice.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Solomon's Wisdom and Folly.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Lessons From Solomon's Reign.

Here again we must go outside of the particular text assigned and make a survey of Solomon's reign.

I. Solomon Anointed King (I Kings 1:3-40).

David had heretofore failed to show the people who should be king after him (v. 20). Through the combined appeals of Bathsheba and Nathan, he is now stirred to action. He immediately sent for the faithful three, Zadok, Nathan and Benaiah, and bade them to anoint Solomon king. They speedily executed their commission, and soon the people shouted, "God save King Solomon."

II. Solomon's Wise Choice (II Chron. 1:7-12).

1. God's Gracious Offer (v. 7). This offer followed Solomon's lavish sacrifice to the Lord. God said, "Ask what I shall give thee," thus placing very wide possibilities before the king. God, as it were, signed blank checks and turned them over to Solomon to fill in any amount that his heart desired. This offer to Solomon was no exceptional one, for opportunities equally limited are piled before us. God is saying to every one of His children, "Ask, and it shall be given you." (John 15:7).

2. Solomon's Wise Choice (v. 8-10). The Lord's gracious offer brought the king face to face with the responsibility of making his choice. Solomon did not ask for wisdom for vain display, but for the good of others. He desired inward worth, not outward show. In this choice, he asked for two particular things:

(1) That God's promise to his father, David, might be established.

(2) That wisdom would be given to him to perform his duties.

3. God's Answer: A Gift to Solomon (v. 11). Solomon's petition pleased the Lord. Because he put wisdom first God saw that he could be trusted with material goods also.

III. The Glory of Solomon's Reign.
1. His Extensive Kingdom (I Kings 4:21-25). He ruled over the kingdom from the Euphrates river to the Mediterranean sea, except the Philistines, and they were in alliance with him.
2. His Great Wisdom (I Kings 4:29-34). It excelled that of the Chaldeans, Persians and Egyptians. He had a singularly comprehensive mind. He was:

(1) A moral philosopher. He spoke three thousand proverbs.

(2) A poet. His songs were one thousand five.

(3) A botanist. He spoke of trees from the cedar tree, which was in Lebanon, even unto the hyssop.

(4) A zoologist. He spoke of beasts and of fowl, and of creeping things, and of fishes.

3. The Temple (I Kings 5-6). This was an exact reproduction of the tabernacle, double in size, executed in marble and gold. The amount of labor, skill and money expended on the building was exceedingly great (I Chron. 22:14-16).

4. His Royal Palaces Adjoining the Temple (I Kings 7). He was nearly twice as long in building these as in building the Lord's house.

5. His Commerce (I Kings 9:26-28). Compare II Chron. 9 and 10:23. His trading ships went east as far as the Indian ocean, perhaps even to India; and west as far as Spain.

6. His Army and Navy (I Kings 10:23-29). This was for more than display. He put his nation into a state of preparedness.

Tula greatness was associated with the name of the Lord. It was known that his fame was due to his relation with the living God.

IV. Solomon's Failure (I Kings 11:4-12).

Because Solomon did evil in the sight of the Lord, the Lord was angry with him and assured him that the kingdom would be rent from him and given to his servant. However, for the sake of David, he would not bring this humiliation upon Solomon while he lived. Solomon's chief offenses were alliances with foreign powers through marrying king's daughters. This compromise weakened his moral nature and he soon followed his wives in the worship of false gods.

Musk Loses Weight.
Charles Bazzoni, a French chemist, demonstrates that a grain of musk loses weight until it ceases to give off its odor, after which its weight remains the same. This proves that perfume is caused by volatile particles given off by the odoriferous body.

Said a lawyer in addressing the court, "If this argument is not clear, your honor, I have another that is equally conclusive."

Wishes That Come True.
Good wishes have a way of realizing themselves. They have a potency almost magical, and the girl who is always wishing the best for other friends finds her hopes realized for herself, as though kindly wishes were a sort of gracious boomerang, coming back to the heart that sent it out. Just wishing others joy, if the wish is from the heart, helps to add something to the happiness of the world.

URGES GREATER SAFEGUARDS FOR AUTOMOBILISTS

By ROBERT L. DERRICK

of Derrick Bros. Maxwell, Chrysler and Chalmers distributors

Every time a bandit risks his escape in an automobile that fact is recorded. But how often is it also recorded that the police want in pursuit in a motor car.

The automobile like everything else ever made by man has been abused. The criminal, especially has found many uses for the motor car. But so have the police, hospital and fire departments. And out of fairness to the motor owning public the entire story should be told.

I approve of the recommendation of Governor Smith of New York state that there should be a State Department of Automobiles. There should be a medical and mental examination of all persons who want licenses to drive cars. The mentally and physically unfit, for the sake of themselves, the pedestrian and motor car owners, should not be permitted to operate cars.

I agree with the recommendations of James P. Martin, Probation Officer, of New York, that there should be an examination of the character of all applicants for licenses. If necessary the candidates for licenses should be finger-printed to make sure they have no criminal record.

More care should be taken in the issuing of license plates. There should be separate licenses for pleasure cars, commercial vehicles and omnibuses.

To relieve congestion license for pleasure cars could be issued at one time of the year and licenses for commercial vehicles at another.

It is hoped that at some future Conference of the Governors some of these common problems relating to the motor car will be considered. For example, hand signals differ in various parts of the country. Why wouldn't it be far better to have them standardized so that a man may go into any state and feel safe in driving because he is able to understand signals?

The automotive industry will probably never face an economic saturation but it will have to contend with a highway and street saturation unless some of these common problems are considered in their national aspect rather than local.

No one is more interested than the motor car owner himself in working out these problems satisfactorily to all. The owner of an automobile is a man who has made an investment in transportation and everything that tends toward solving some of these problems helps him to get a bigger return on his investment.

Primitive Life in Turkey

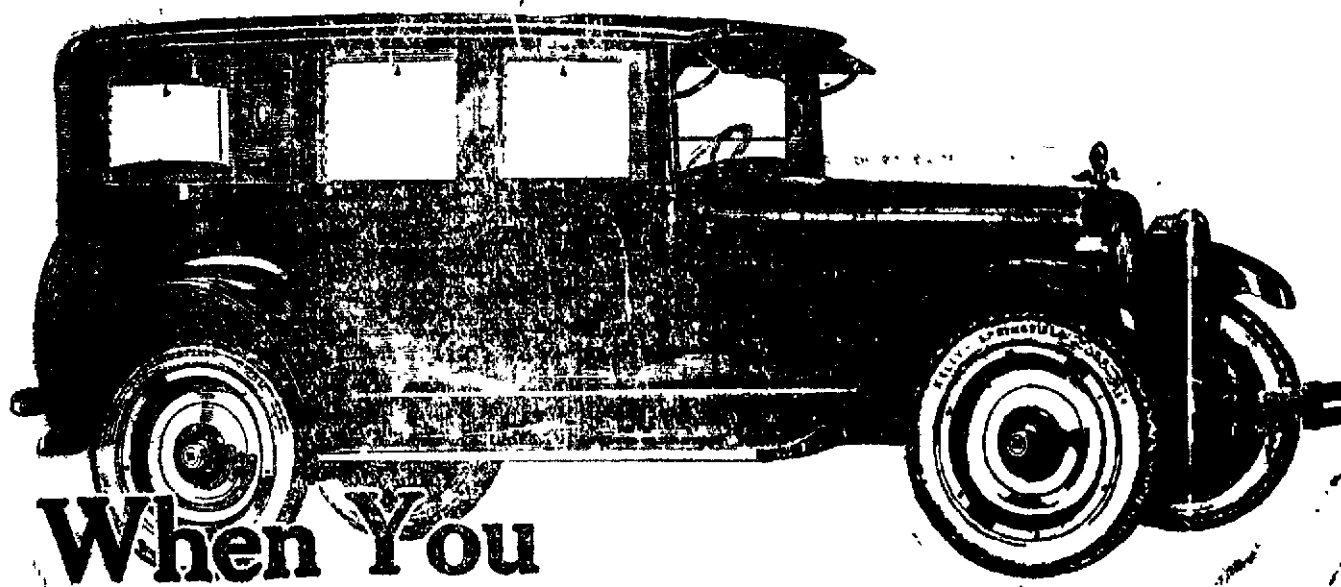

(Being to the lack of building and in use of the interior doors. Turkey, all houses in both the country are built of mud bricks, "terracotta," which is a mixture of mud and straw. The houses are not fire and part of them is always used for the stable, one or two rooms being reserved for use of the family which lives in the simplest and most primitive manner. Everyone who has rolled up in a blanket on the earth floor.

Matches of Hemp.
In the use of early firearms a match consisted of a cord of hemp or similar material treated with saltpetre so that it continued to smolder after it had been ignited. The match was attached to the cock of the musket and brought down by the action of the trigger on the powder priming.

Protecting Himself
Actor—"I say, old man, I wish you'd advance me $5 and take it out of my first week's salary." Manager—"But, my dear fellow, suppose it happened that I couldn't pay your first week's salary, where would I be?"—Boston Transcript.

Fate of Early Poisoners.
In medieval times in Europe poisoners, when detected, were usually broken alive upon the wheel, after having first been given a taste of the rack while in prison awaiting execution, as a sort of gentle reminder of what they had recently got to go through.

Rickenbacker

When You Begin to "Melt Rubber"

That was the graphic term used by W. S. James of the U. S. Bureau of Standards, to express the condition that occurs when the braking strain of tires-on-road reaches its limit.

Traction ceases at that point and your brakes are impotent—regardless of the size or power of the brakes themselves.

It stands to reason that you reach the point where "you begin to melt rubber" just twice as often when the braking strain is all on two points as when it is distributed over four.

And that was proven in the tests by the Bureau of Standards.

As a matter of fact, you seldom if ever reach the point where you "melt rubber," when you have 4-Wheel Brakes.

Because—the strain is distributed over four instead of two points of contact with the road.

And, since the area of tires is proportioned to weight of car, the strain on each—and the heat generated by friction of rubber-to-road—is only half.

That's why tires last so much longer when the car has 4-Wheel Brakes.

One Rickenbacker owner states that he drove more than 36,000 miles on one set of cord tires; and hosts of Rickenbacker owners give 20,000 as their average mileage per tire.

Aside from the tremendous safety factor, the saving effected by properly designed 4-Wheel Brakes is also most gratifying.

But remember—there are 4-Wheel Brakes—and "4-Wheel Brakes."

Anyone who has tried all types will agree that Rickenbacker 4-Wheel Brakes are just the world's best.

See and compare design and construction. Then compare performance—before you buy.

But whatever you do, insist on "built-in" mechanically operated internal expanding 4-Wheel Brakes on your next car.

And if you would insure the least depreciation, longest life, lowest upkeep and most pleasurable riding, insist also on these features:

A Vibrationless Motor—2 Fly Wheels

An efficient Air Cleaner

A Frame not less than 8" in depth

"Cradle" type spring suspension

Disc Steel Wheels

And for ease of steering—ball bearings in steering spindles.

In all these great improvements Rickenbacker was first, and still is best.

Curwensville's Own Column

A very pleasant party was given Miss Annie Scherz at her home on Thursday evening in honor of her birthday.

Rev. John C. Collins will preach his last two sermons in the M. E. church as its pastor Sunday. During the week he will remove to his new charge and his successor, Rev. J. V. Adams will move his family to Curwensville and will be welcomed a reception by the members of his congregation.

The funeral of the late Hugh S. Scherz was held yesterday from the home of his son, Charles Scherz, in the morning. Despite stormy weather a large number of neighbors and friends were at the house service. A party of forty of his brethren of the M. E. church also banded the weather conditions and were in a body to the cemetery and remained the last of the funeral service of their departed brother.

It is a pretty sure sign that spring is not far away when wild geese in large numbers are seen whirling about in a way to a river, a number of birds having been seen passing in this town within the past few days.

After the regular meeting of the P. M. E. lodge last night the members and a number of guests enjoyed an entertainment in the lodge room. Had it not been for the reason that there were no other entertainments going on at the same time a much larger crowd would have been present.

The Senior Class play, "Miss Somebody Else" was produced yesterday both afternoon and evening. It was a great success in every particular and each one participating in the roles covered themselves with theatrical glory. The talent was all local and displayed amateur acting almost equal to professional work. After the show a Senior dance was held in the Legion rooms, which also terminated in a pleasant and enjoyable affair.

Miss Nell Leach, one of the Kantar store clerks in the State street store took advantage of the store being closed for repairs and visited with friends in Jefferson county a few days this week.

Misses Jane Teats, Margaret Hipps, Gretchen Leib and Joe Hipps who are students at Grove City college are home for a few days while a little house cleaning is going on in rooms on the floor occupied by them.

George Binkley, who follows mining for a livelihood, has been unable to work for several weeks on account of taking care of an attack of rheumatism contracted while mining coal.

George C. Fleming (Piney) has been confined to his home and room for several days by an attack of grip and a severe cold.

Mrs. Elmer Kieck of the South Side has been ill for the past two weeks of low blood pressure and a weak heart.

Births

Born to Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Koozer at their home in Plymptonville, last evening, a fine six pound baby girl.

Fed Up

Papa—"I hear that Charles Green is going to be married next week." Little Robert (whose ideas on the subject are somewhat confused)—"The last three days they give him everything to eat that he asks for, don't they, papa?"

No Matches Needed

By setting a small clock, that can be attached to any coil or tank water heater, it will shut off the gas when the contents have been heated. No matches are needed, when this control is used, for the timer lights the burner from a pilot flame.

A Dangerous Plight for a Girl

Making a pretense of affection for a man she really loathed, resting her head on a Mexican's shoulder in order to disarm the suspicions of a youth who frankly stared at her in a cantina, amazed at the startling resemblance of this brunette siren to the girl he loves a few miles north across the border—because she is that same girl. And having the Mexican assume more than the caress intended.

WHY THE RISK?
WHAT WAS HER GAME?
WHAT CAME OF IT?

The answers will be found in a superb melodrama based on the greatest problem of the day. No, not a problem play, but a logical, understandable, convincing, interest-clinching story of a girl's sacrifices in pursuit of a very significant mission, amazing in its situations, amazing in the scope of its production, amazing in its suspense, amazing in the personnel of its splendid cast.

WEAK, RUN DOWN AFTER SICKNESS

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made Mrs. Dube Well and Strong

E. Hartford, Conn.—"After a severe sickness I was so weak that I could not do my housework, so my mother told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The first bottle helped me so much that I took six more bottles and felt fine. I have just given birth to a nice baby girl and am feeling strong and well. So different from the way I felt before. I am taking the Vegetable Compound right along while nursing. The baby seems to be in good health, and my friends say they see a big change for the better in me."—Mrs. EUGENE DUBE, 50 Woodbridge Street, East Hartford, Connecticut.

The Vegetable Compound is a splendid medicine to bring back health and strength. Many mothers have found this true, as did Mrs. Dube. Ask some of your neighbors and friends, for there are women everywhere who know by experience the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Massachusetts, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women."

Paint Up—Inside!

NOW that the evenings are long and spent largely at home, a little indoor painting would be a might fine thing to accomplish—and there are few houses that couldn't be improved by the judicious use of a little paint here and there.

There are lots of good paints on the market, but after we had looked them over, we selected Dupont Paints as the one we wanted to sell our customers. We know that we can safely add our guarantee to that of the manufacturer.
